

Where to find advice on specialist car seats and in-car safety

General in-car safety products

- A variety of safety buckles are available to prevent your child from opening their seatbelt, such as <http://www.bucklesafe.co.uk/>

- Harnesses that attach to your standard car seat are also available, such as <http://www.crelling.com/> or http://www.mobilityengineering.com.au/careva\_harness\_system.htm The centres listed below will provide further information on harnesses and opportunities to trial the products.

Regional Driving Assessment Centre (RDAC)

The RDAC is a charity that specialises in helping people with disabilities to maintain their independent mobility, help carers and those travelling as passengers in vehicles. The RDAC run car seat clinics throughout the year where a child and their family's needs are assessed. Options for car seats and access can be viewed and trialled with support from the RDAC's specialist OT and representatives of specialist car seat companies. There is a £10 fee for this assessment.
