

70-90% of people with mental health conditions would like to work, but only 37% are in paid employment. For people with severe mental health issues, it's just 8%.

Mental health is an essential business concern

The value added to the economy by people who are at work and have or have had mental health problems is as high as £225 billion per year, which represents 12.1% of the UK's total

How does IPS work?

IPS is effective because it follows these simple principles:

- It aims to get people into competitive employment
- It is open to all those who want to work
- It tries to find jobs consistent with people's preferences
- It works quickly
- Employment specialists work closely with clinical teams
- Employment specialists develop relationships with employers based upon a person's work preferences
- It provides time unlimited, Individualised support for the person and their employer
- Benefits counselling is included

We welcome the opportunity to work alongside you, helping to meet your recruitment needs and beyond
